Cherry Festival

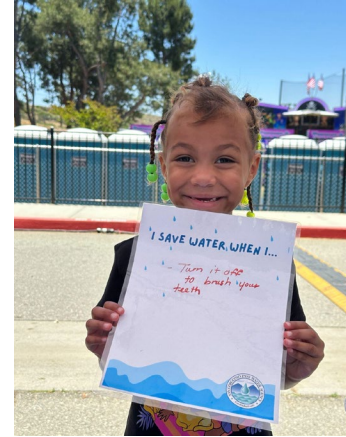

IERCD staff had great time with the many attendees that stopped by to learn more about SGPWA and all the great things the SGPWA does for their community. CV Strategies provided feedback on elevating branding, focused on SGPWA colors and services; as a result, IERCD updated colors on printed outreach and brought the groundwater model, helping community members best engage and understand SGPWA function and value

2024-25 Concepts:

Existing/Continued:

- K-12 classroom programs
 - Improvements: revising presentations for clarity/engagement; activity development in response to teacher feedback; changing up pre/post program content for teachers to increase use
- Public Event Attendance:
 - Able to repeat attendance at all events that were successful this year; IERCD to continue SGPWA branding and activities
 - IERCD staff able to create rolling matrix of possible events and can directly coordinate with organizers if that saves time/cash

New:

- All-Community Workshops:
 - Moving from HOAs to community facility but retaining form, empowering community members to participate in sod removal or other water conservation-focused actions with professional support and resources
- Facilitating sod removal program
 - Unsure of status but IERCD facilitates a >$1M program we designed and operate, providing funding to CA producers impacted by extreme weather through eval and ranking of proposals, dissemination of funding, admin of program
- Field Trips - Gilman Ranch or SB County Museum
 - Successful trips on behalf of SBVWCD conducted this year; about $40/student to prep (class program), then participate in multi-station trip and museum visit

Thank you for your support!

PROGRAMS:

The Education Department presented 3 Water Conservation Programs on behalf of the SGPWA in May. In total, the IERCD has presented 65 Water Conservation Programs throughout the 23-24 fiscal year. 19 out of the 23 schools within SGPWA's service area have received a Water Conservation Program. 1,646 students ranging from kindergarten to twelfth grade have learned about major concepts of the science behind the importance of water conservation.

UPCOMING COMMUNITY EVENTS:

The IERCD staff will be attending the Cherry Festival on Saturday, June 1st, and Sunday, June 2nd at Noble Creek Regional Park. They have been working with CV strategies staff to continue outreach imaging regarding SGPWA's core water mission and vision. Per CV strategies guidance, the Education Team has included a QR code on California Native Plant Seed Mix packets that after being scanned with a smart device community members are directed to SGPWA's Conservation for the Next Generation webpage. IERCD staff will be showcasing one of SGPWA's Aquifer models as a visual representation of the movement of groundwater. The IERCD will be at the Cherry Festival during the following days and timeframes:
